

Getting To Patients

Join us for this new series that highlights the symbiotic relationship between basic science research and clinical practice. Getting To Patients celebrates those who have successfully translated scientific discovery into direct patient benefit.

Mark Walters, MD

Jordan Family Director of Bone Marrow Transplantation at
UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital

“Curative treatments for hereditary hemoglobin disorders”

Question & Answer Session:

Tippi MacKenzie, Director, UCSF Broad Center

Sandy Feng, Vice-Chair for Research, Dept of Surgery

Monday, December 5

5 - 7 PM

Byers Auditorium, Genentech Hall

Appetizers and Beverages following the discussion in Genentech Atrium